Dr. Matt M. Kurrek,

The Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada initiated its continuing professional development program, The Maintenance of Certification (MOC) Program, January 1, 2000. All active members of the Royal College are required to participate in the MOC Program to maintain their Fellowship in the College. The MOC Program requires that all MOC Program participants earn a minimum of 400 credits over a 5-year cycle. MOC Program participants are also required to annually register a minimum of 40 credits of Continuing Professional Development (CPD) activities.

Matt M. Kurrek has had 113 credits applied in 2016.

Sincerely,

Craig Campbell, MD, FRCPC
Director, Continuing Professional Development, and Registrar
